Since the dawn of time, human history has been marked by conflict. People fight wars over resources, religion, ideology, and power. These conflicts carry costs, not only for the belligerents themselves, but also for society at large. In this course, we will focus upon the ways in which these conflicts can be both managed and resolved by third parties. We will examine the primary impediments to conflict resolution as well as the ways in which third parties can help disputants overcome these barriers.

Learning Objective
This course seeks to help students understand both the challenges to successfully managing international and civil conflicts and the variety of conflict management tools at the disposal of policymakers.

Required Books

Other readings will be available for download through the class webpage on Blackboard

Course Requirements
Midterm & Final Exams – Exams will cover material presented in the assigned readings and in the class discussions. Questions will be a combination of short answer and essay questions. The final exam will not be cumulative. Students are expected to take the examinations on the date that they are scheduled. Students missing an exam will normally receive a “0” on that exam. Excused absences from an exam will be rare and only when accompanied by appropriate documentation. In order to request an excused absence, a student must meet me in my office during my office hours to request a makeup exam. Makeup requests will not be accepted over email. – 300 points each, 600 points total

Simulation Paper – Students will be responsible for writing a response paper to the in-class negotiation simulation. This response paper will evaluate the events of the simulation, applying material covered in the class to explanation what did (or did not) take place during the course of the simulation. This paper will be approximately 5 pages in length. Further details on the simulation paper will be posted online – 150 points

Conflict Management Action Plan – Students will develop a conflict management plan for an ongoing conflict from a list provided by the instructor. The conflict management plan will detail the sources of conflict, barriers to conflict management, and develop and justify an action plan for managing the conflict. Each action plan will be described in a 12-15 page double-spaced paper. Further information about the expectations for the project will be posted online. – 250 points

Simulation Attendance – We will hold in-class simulations during the weeks of 10/27-10/29 & 11/17-11/19. All students are required to attend all of the simulation days and attendance will be taken on each simulation day. Students missing either the 10/30 or 11/1 simulation day without a valid, documented excuse will have their midterm exam grade reduced by 10 points. Students missing either the 11/27 or 11/29 simulation day without a valid, documented excuse will have their final exam grade reduced by 10 points.

Course Grading
A: 895-1000 points
B: 795-894 points
C: 695-794 points
D: 595-694 points
F: 0-594 points
Grade Appeals
Students wishing to appeal any assignment grade given in the class must do so in writing. In order to be considered, the grade appeal must describe: (1) why the student believes that the grade is incorrect and (2) what the student believes the correct grade should be. Upon receiving a grade appeal, I will re-evaluate the assignment. Following the re-evaluation, based upon the original criteria used to grade the assignment, the grade may be increased, decreased, or remain the same. Due to student confidentiality laws, I cannot discuss grades over email.

Course Rules
1. I take academic honesty very seriously. Students caught plagiarizing or cheating will receive an F in the course and will be referred to the proper university authorities.
2. I do not offer individual extra credit or supplementary assignments
3. Course information will be disseminated through the class webpage (learn.unt.edu). You are responsible for checking the class webpage on a regular basis for class updates, information, and announcements.
4. This syllabus is not a contract; I reserve the right to alter both dates and assignments
5. Late assignments will only be accepted under extraordinary circumstances, with prior approval, and with appropriate documentation.
6. Students are expected to arrive at each class meeting with the readings for that class completed and prepared to discuss them.
7. Students should arrive to class on time and, if arriving late, avoid disrupting the class. Students may only leave class early with my prior permission or in the event of an emergency.
8. I am available to answer questions about the course during my office hours, via e-mail, or by appointment. If you have a question about the course or the material that we cover, do not hesitate to ask me. I am more than happy to talk with you.

ADA遵守政策

The Political Science Department cooperates with the Office of Disability Accommodation to make reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. Please present your written accommodation request on or before the sixth class day (beginning of the second week of classes).

University of North Texas -- Department of Political Science
POLICY ON CHEATING AND PLAGIARISM
The UNT Code of Student Conduct and Discipline defines cheating and plagiarism as the use of unauthorized books, notes, or otherwise securing help in a test; copying others' tests, assignments, reports, or term papers; representing the work of another as one's own; collaborating without authority with another student during an examination or in preparing academic work; or otherwise practicing scholastic dishonesty. Normally, the minimum penalty for cheating or plagiarism is a grade of "F" in the course. In the case of graduate departmental exams, the minimum penalty shall be failure of all fields of the exam. Determination of cheating or plagiarism shall be made by the instructor in the course, or by the field faculty in the case of departmental exams. Cases of cheating or plagiarism on graduate departmental exams, theses, or dissertations shall automatically be referred to the departmental Graduate Studies Committee. Cases of cheating or plagiarism in ordinary coursework may, at the discretion of the instructor, be referred to the Undergraduate Studies Committee in the case of undergraduate students, or the Graduate Studies Committee in the case of graduate students. These committees, acting as agents of the department Chair, shall impose further penalties, or recommend further penalties to the Dean of Students, if they determine that the case warrants it. In all cases, the Dean of Students shall be informed in writing of the case. Students may appeal any decision under this policy by following the procedures laid down in the UNT Code of Student Conduct and Discipline.

POLICY ON ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

The Political Science Department adheres to and enforces UNT’s policy on academic integrity (cheating, plagiarism, forgery, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty and sabotage). Students in this class should review the policy (UNT Policy Manual Section 18.1.16), which may be located at http://policy.unt.edu/sites/default/files/untpolicy/pdf/7-Student_Affairs-Academic_Integrity.pdf. Violations of academic integrity in this course will addressed in compliance with the penalties and procedures laid out in this policy. Students may appeal any decision under this policy by following the procedures laid down in the UNT The UNT Policy Manual Section 18.1.16 “Student Standards of Academic Integrity”.

Acceptable Student Behavior:

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor’s ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities to consider whether the student’s conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university’s expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at www.unt.edu/csr.
