II. Lessons

MUAM: 1509, 3509, 5509, 6509 and MUAC: 1509, 3509, 5509, 6509 consist of individual lessons, reed classes, studio classes and additional master classes as scheduled. Lessons will consist of technical requirements (scales, arpeggios and other exercises), etudes by Barret and Ferling, solo repertoire, chamber repertoire and large ensemble repertoire as outlined in the Oboe Studio Study Guide.

In order to maximize lesson time, students must warm up (instrument, reed, embouchure, fingers, mind and body) at least one half hour prior to the lesson and knock on the studio at the lesson time. Having organized lesson goals the evening before, students are encouraged to express what they hope to cover in the lesson and show an eagerness to learn when they walk through the door.

Students should bring all appropriate music, instruments and materials to lessons and classes, including the Oboe Notebook, which will be used to consolidate all oboe/EH-related information and serve as a plan and record of study.

Please note:

UNT gives high priority to research by faculty. In the field of music performance, “research” means performing concerts. From time to time, weekly lessons may have to be rescheduled to accommodate the professor’s performance schedule, or given via “Skype” with a Graduate Teaching Fellow in attendance. On occasion, an extra master class may replace an individual lesson, when performance commitments allow no alternative. Graduate students may also be asked to assist in undergraduate teaching.
Lessons (continued)

Oboe students are expected to check UNT e-mail and the oboe studio web site daily for announcements, changes in schedule or materials.

Studio Class meetings are TBA and participation is required of all oboe students. This is a master class with a syllabus that covers topics such as oboe fundamentals, practice techniques, memorization, oboe/EH adjustment and maintenance, solo & ensemble performances and orchestral repertoire. All students will be required to play in class as assigned and be ready to play as time permits. Students may also be required to comment on and offer suggestions about student performances in the class.

Oboe/English Horn Reed Classes are TBA. The classes will be divided into several sections. Participation in at least one hour of class per week is required of all oboe majors until such time as the student receives an “A” grade on two consecutive reed exams. Students are required to bring their reed equipment and a minimum of three (3) new reeds to each class. Students are expected to make a minimum of one to two reeds per day in order to advance their reed making skills. Other students are welcome to join the classes. The grade for this class will consist of the average of a midterm, final, participation and overall progress grades.

Orchestral Repertoire Master Classes are TBA. These classes will supplement the Studio Class and are strongly recommended for upper level students. Classes will require listening to recordings, preparation of orchestral parts, trial auditions, in-class coaching and class discussion.

III. Listening

Listening assignments will be part of the curriculum for the studio and orchestral literature classes, as well as other course work for the College of Music. Oboe students will receive a list of repertoire especially important for the oboe and English horn that they will be expected to listen to, and be familiar with over the course of their degree program.

IV. Attendance

Since lessons and master classes are participatory in nature, an unexcused absence from a lesson, studio class, reed class, orchestral literature class or scheduled master class will result in a zero grade for that particular lesson or class. An unexcused absence is one in which the professor did not receive a phone or e-mail message asking to be excused prior to the event. Three unexcused absences will result in the failure of the course.

More than fifteen (15) minutes late will be considered an absence. Repeated lateness under fifteen minutes will accumulate to an unexcused absence when the total exceeds fifteen (15) minutes. Lessons or classes missed due to excused absence (illness or emergency with prior message or call) will be made up at a time convenient for both professor and student. More than three (3) excused absences may require the student to take an incomplete for the course in a manner consistent with UNT academic policies.
Attendance (continued)

All oboe students are required to attend the professor’s solo and chamber music recitals, as well as all degree recitals by colleagues in the oboe studio. Attendance at orchestra concerts and other faculty and guest artist recitals is strongly encouraged.

V. Grading

Students majoring in oboe performance are expected to hold oboe performance as the chief priority in their university curriculum. Since the profession is highly competitive, it is incumbent on the student to make the very most of their tenure at UNT. The minimum expectation for oboe majors is to demonstrate satisfactory technical control of the oboe and English horn, and good understanding of musical style with these instruments as a medium of expression. For most people, this requires at least three to four hours per day of practice interspersed with at least an hour or so per day in reed-making, bearing in mind that the actual time spent is not as important as the amount of focused mental energy employed. Students should schedule classes and outside activities to allow enough time to meet their musical goals.

Each lesson, class performance and assignment will be graded on the following scale:

A: Superior preparation of assignments and excellent performances
B: Average preparation of assignments and performances
C: Inadequate preparation of assignments and substandard performances
F: No attendance and/or preparation for assignments and performances

For purposes of calculation:

\[
\begin{align*}
A &= 100 \\
A- &= 95 \\
B+ &= 90 \\
B &= 87 \\
B- &= 83 \\
C+ &= 80 \\
C &= 77 \\
C- &= 73
\end{align*}
\]

The average of all lesson and studio grades will constitute 25% of the final lesson grade for the semester. 25% will be determined by the average of technical requirements grades for the semester. The remaining 50% of the grade will be determined by the end of semester Jury Exam Grade.

Final Grade:
\[
\begin{align*}
A &> 95 \\
A- &> 90 \\
B+ &> 87 \\
B &> 83 \\
B- &> 80 \\
C+ &> 77 \\
C &> 73 \\
C- &> 70 \\
F &< 70
\end{align*}
\]

Reed class, when required, will constitute half of the jury grade using the above criterion and grading scale.
VI. Jury Exams

Jury Exams are held at the end of each semester during the week prior to exam week. Policies for scheduling and grading Jury Exams are outlined in the UNT Woodwind Area Policy Handbook. All Oboe Majors and Concentrations are expected to perform a Jury Exam. Jury Exams for Music Education Majors and Performance Majors are scheduled at different times. The jury is graded by a panel consisting of Applied Wind Faculty of the College of Music. A time and place for Jury Exams will be posted approximately three weeks prior to the end of the Semester. The student is responsible for signing up for a time slot for the Jury Exam at a time when their accompanist is available. A repertoire form will be completed by the student and brought to the jury.

The literature prepared for the Jury Exam will be approved by the professor and consist of the following materials from the Oboe Studio Study Guide:

A. Solo Literature and/or Orchestral Excerpts
B. Etudes
C. Technical Requirements

Decisions concerning a student’s jury requirements are usually made by the seventh (7th) week of the semester. If required, an accompanist must be engaged for the Jury Exam by the student at this time. Unless other arrangements are made, the accompanist must be present at no less than one lesson with a minimum of one rehearsal prior to the first lesson, as arranged by the student with the accompanist. The student is responsible for the accompanist’s fee, comportment and preparation. Students are strongly advised to use accompanists recommended by the UNT staff. Professional demeanor and attire are appropriate for Jury Exam performances.

Each member of the Jury gives the student a grade for the jury performance. These grades are averaged to find the Jury Exam Grade (25-50% of the Final lesson Grade). At the discretion of the student’s professor, this Jury Exam Grade may be raised or lowered by one letter grade depending on the professor’s assessment of the student’s work over the course of the semester.

Upper Division Exam (UDE)

Before registering for woodwind lessons at the 3500 levels, all students must pass an Upper Division Examination (UDE). This examination is administered at the end of the 4th semester of 1500 level study. Students must exhibit an acceptable characteristic sound with good intonation, rhythmic stability, endurance, etc. in the performance of appropriate repertoire. If this exam is not passed after the first attempt, additional credit hours may be required by the jury and must be completed before the upper divisional exam may be retaken. This number of credit hours will be added to the student’s degree plan. This exam may be taken no more than two times. After two failures the student will be ineligible to continue at his/her current status. Works to be performed at this examination must be level appropriate.

Concentration Proficiency Exit Exam

Undergraduate concentration students must pass a final proficiency exit exam to complete their applied music study. This exam is normally performed at the end of the 6th semester of applied study but may be performed earlier. The appropriate applied faculty must approve the repertoire. An acceptable recital, adjudicated by a woodwind faculty committee, may substitute for this exam. If this exam is not passed after the first attempt, additional credit hours may be required by the jury and must be completed before the Concentration Proficiency Exit Exam can be retaken. This number of credit hours will be added to the student’s degree plan. This exam may be taken no more than two times. After two failures the student will be ineligible to continue at his/her current status.

Secondary Jury

Students enrolled in secondary applied study may be required to play a jury by their applied teacher.
