INSTRUCTOR EXPECTATIONS

Calendar & Planning

The UNT Blackboard system attempts to include the dates and deadlines for the LTEC 4470 class in the Calendar section. Please review this calendar, each module assignment AND the course syllabus when verifying LTEC 4470 dates and deadlines for required work.

Please see the Syllabus Assignment Schedule to guide you for due dates in this course. ALWAYS be sure to check the course syllabus for deadlines – please let me know if there are any discrepancies between the Learning Modules deadlines on the syllabus.

Course Content & Assignments

The content of the course is located under the Learning Modules button on left menu bar of the class. There are three types of assignments in this course: Discussions, Journals, Projects, and Wiki.

Discussions

Discussions are meant to be an interactive conversation and are a very important part of this class. Like in any classroom, there needs to be back-and-forth comments between participants in order for it to be meaningful. Discussions are open during the week they are assigned. Each Tuesday morning the new topic will open and you are responsible to post a total of four times during the week: one main response to the topic, and three responses to others spread out over the week.

Discussions will be graded based on your contributions to the conversation. Your responses need to be substantive and focus on course concepts and further the class conversation, that is, your original post should be between 100-200 words and responses posts should be at least 50 words. Each student must submit an original discussion posting (4 points) and respond to THREE (3) other students' discussion posts (6 points) connected to each weekly learning module. If a student submits an original discussion posting but fails to respond to three students or more, he or she may only receive up to 10 points for this discussion module. Do NOT put attachments in the discussion board area. Do NOT submit assignments to the discussion board. The instructor will not grade assignments posted in the discussion area. Please refer to the Discussion Guidelines document in the "Start Here Module" to obtain full points.

Journals

Journal assignments are your opportunity to tell me what you learned from the textbook chapter. Note that journal submissions have a set structure:

- Three (3) key points taken from the chapter
- Implications of the key points for the field of education and/or training [or your chosen industry]
- Describe what surprised/impressed you
- Detail how you will apply it in your industry

Journals should be a substantial investment of your time reading the chapter and writing the Journal. Be sure to see the Journal Assignment Instructions inside Module 1.

Projects

Interspersed throughout the semester there are projects that will help you apply critical thinking skills to the chapters we have covered. There is also a final group project that will be done over several weeks. Projects carry more points than the discussions and journals, so be sure to plan ahead and get these submitted as required.

Writing Skills

Students will compose grammatically correct sentences, write well-developed paragraphs, and express ideas in a well-organized, coherent matter. No outlines will be accepted in this course. Every assignment must include student name, course and SECTION, module number and assignment title. Every assignment should include the student name in the file name/document title (e.g., PasquiniL_AssignmentName). Submissions must have complete sentences, correct punctuation, and capitalization. Avoid using abbreviations and acronyms without appropriate clarification. Consider getting support for this course with your writing at the UNT Writing Lab (<http://writinglab.unt.edu/>) and/or UNT Career Center (<http://studentaffairs.unt.edu/career-center>).

Late Work

Late work is not accepted and will receive a 0 grade. It is suggested that you plan on completing your work the day prior to the due date. Then unexpected problems will not result in your work being late.

ALL assignments must be submitted by 11:59 pm CDT on the date it is due via Blackboard. Do NOT submit assignments via e-mail or to the discussion board.

It is the student's responsibility to see that work is submitted. It is not fair to other students to allow a student to submit late work and receive credit; therefore, the late policy is strictly enforced. Any student who is missing assignments from 3 modules will be dropped from the class with a WF.

Attendance and Participation

The instructor reserves the right to request of the Registrar that a student be dropped from the course (W or WF) due to unsatisfactory progress. All students are expected to fully participate in all class activities. Full participation includes web-based activities. If there is an issue, questions, or concern about participation in the LTEC 4470 course, it is the students' responsibility to contact the instructor and communicate these issues directly with the instructor of the LTEC course. If a student has not participated in a discussion or submitted an assignment before the Census Day (September 5, 2015) outlined by the UNT Academic Calendar, they may be dropped for non-attendance. Additionally, if assignments are missed for two or more modules without contacting the instructor, the student will be dropped for non-participation.

LTEC COURSE POLICIES

Communication Parameters

Students should contact the instructor via the instructor's preferred communication (see above). Instructors will attempt to respond to student emails within TWO (2) working days. Working days do not include weekends or holidays. Students should not expect the communication parameters in a web-based class to significantly differ from the parameters in traditional campus-based classes.

Students are encouraged to develop communication networks with other class members via electronic communication vehicles such as Blackboard Learn email, bulletin board, and/or chat. Students should consider the communication parameters with regard to assignment due dates. Please be aware that instructors will not be able to respond to “last minute” requests for assignment clarification, and students may encounter unforeseen problems with their Internet provider, software, or hardware.

Student Responsibilities for Distributed Learning Courses:

- Access course web page & initiate contact within 1st week of the semester
- Be able to work independently on course objectives, given the format for interaction with faculty and students will be non-traditional.
- Verify appropriate hardware and software as described in the course description.
- Provide instructor with access to a working email account.
- Contact instructor or instructor's assistant within two days if any problems develop with regard to accessing the course.
- Adhere to communication parameters of course (i.e., email, discussion, chat).
- Complete UNT Student Tutorial prior to taking the first Blackboard course.
- Comply with appropriate electronic etiquette and abbreviations.
- Acquire all necessary software and books.
- Complete all course requirements by posted deadlines.

Students should maintain electronic copies in chronological order of ALL journal entries, bulletin board responses, lesson plans, and other assignments listed within the syllabus. It is the responsibility of the student to verify that all messages AND attachments are sent to the course instructor.

"All students should activate and regularly check their e-mail account used for official communication from UNT to students. Many important announcements for the University and College are sent to students via the assigned e-mail account. Please be sure to FORWARD this email to another account, if it is not where you view your messages:

<http://www.unt.edu/helpdesk/faq/>

Online Etiquette

Students should be cognizant of the limitations of an online environment and exercise caution when interacting with others through the discussion board and/or messages. The purpose of our interactions is the exchange of knowledge and best practices as well as clarification of concepts. In an online environment, comments can be unintentionally misinterpreted or misrepresented. Students should observe the following guidelines:

- Students should be respectful of peers' opinions.
- Students should avoid using language that may be viewed as offensive.
- Students should avoid writing in all capital letters.
- Students should reread messages/postings as necessary before responding to avoid misunderstanding and should seek clarification as necessary.

MEDICAL EMERGENCIES:

If you have a medical emergency that will prevent you from completing the course as scheduled, you MUST notify your instructor at the time of your medical problem. Requests for an Incomplete \(I\) or to drop the course must come at the time of the medical emergency and must be supported by a letter from your physician and must specifically state that your medical situation will NOT permit you to work online or prevent you from submitting assignments as scheduled. Requests for an Incomplete or to DROP this course based on a medical emergency CAN NOT be granted after the medical emergency. Of course all requests must meet standard university policy. Doctor's notes must be received during week 1 or 2 of the medical emergency. Those submitted at the end or once it is over will not be accepted.

Required Software and Hardware

Knowledge of personal computer operation is prerequisite to registering for and successfully completing this online course. Students taking the course should be proficient in the following software as well: Microsoft Word, Microsoft PowerPoint, Microsoft Excel, and Microsoft Access

The acquisition of these skills is the responsibility of student and can be obtained through prior coursework and/or personal experience. A student who is not proficient in these programs should not register for this course. Blackboard is fully supported for both computers using Windows and Apple computers. This includes the programs noted above. Purchase and installation of the programs in a current and compatible version is the responsibility of the student. For personally owned computers, the UNT Bookstore offers software for both systems with student pricing.

In addition, upon starting this or any LTEC Blackboard course, students should review the "Check Browser" link in Blackboard and install the appropriate browser and plug-ins and update their browser to the appropriate settings.

Acceptable Student Behavior

Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at <https://deanofstudents.unt.edu/conduct>

Students must complete all assignments independently unless otherwise instructed. Failure to do so will result in a grade of 0. Other possible consequences of breaching academic integrity include a failing grade on the assignment, a full letter grade drop for the course, or a failing grade in the course. If a student engages in academic dishonesty related to this class, the case will be referred to the Dean of Students for appropriate disciplinary action.

University Policy of Absence for Religious Holidays

In accordance with state law, students absent due to the observance of a religious holiday may take examinations or complete assignments scheduled for the day missed within a reasonable time after the absence if the student has notified the instructor of each class of the date of the absence within the first 15 days of the semester. Notification must be in writing, either personally delivered with receipt of the notification acknowledged and dated by the instructor, or by certified mail, return receipt requested.

Only holidays or holy days observed by a religion whose place of worship is exempt from property taxation under Section 11.20 of the Tax Code may be included. A student who is excused under this provision may not be penalized for the absence, but the instructor may appropriately respond if the student fails to satisfactorily complete the assignment or examination.

Professionalism:

At all times, students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner. This includes being prepared for all class assignments, and being flexible to unforeseen changes in schedules and assignments.

Honesty and Academic Integrity

The UNT Code of Student Conduct and Discipline provides penalties for misconduct by students, including academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty includes cheating and plagiarism.

Cheating and Plagiarism

Students caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a "0" for that particular assignment or exam. Additionally, the incident will be reported to the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities for further penalty.

According to the UNT catalog, the term "cheating" includes, but is not limited to:

- a. use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations;*

- c. the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a faculty or staff member of the university;*
- d. dual submission of a paper or project, or resubmission of a paper or project to a different class without express permission from the instructor(s); or*

University Policy of Disability Accommodations

The University of North Texas is on record as being committed to both the spirit and letter of federal equal opportunity legislation; reference Public Law 92-112 – The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended. With the passage of new federal legislation entitled Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), pursuant to section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, there is renewed focus on providing this population with the same opportunities enjoyed by all citizens.

Whenever a special accommodation or auxiliary aid is necessary in order to ensure access to and full participation by students with disabilities in University programs or services, the department or agency responsible for the program or service to which the individual requires access will work with the Office of Disability Accommodation and appropriate federal and state agencies to ensure that reasonable accommodations are made. The student requiring special accommodation or auxiliary aids must make application for such assistance through the Office of Disability Accommodation. Proof of disability from a competent authority will be required, as well as information regarding specific limitations for which accommodation is requested.

The University assumes no responsibility for personal assistance necessary for independent living or for specialized medical care. Students requiring personal attendants or mobility assistants must employ such persons at their own expense before completion of registration. Students requiring specialized medical care above and beyond that ordinarily offered through the Student Health Center should be prepared to bear the expense of this care through a general hospital or a private physician/clinic of their choice.

Changes may be made as long as it does not compromise the quality of education. Cooperation of faculty, staff, and students is needed to help with physical access and to meet academic requirements. For example, giving extra time on tests or assignments, substituting courses, or adapting classroom presentations (like allowing tape recorders, note takers, or asking a professor to face the class when speaking to allow students to lip read) may be done.

ADA Statement: The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Please Contact the UNT Office of Disability Accommodation (<https://disability.unt.edu/>) for questions, concerns, or support you may contact the ODA office by phone at 940.565.4323 or in person (SAGE 167).

Student Course Evaluations

All students are expected to complete the end-of-semester evaluation for this course.
