

History 2620.007: History of the United States Since 1865
TuTh 9:30-10:50, Wooten 222
Spring 2015

Instructor: Dr. Todd Moye
Wooten Hall 257
Email: moye@unt.edu
Phone: (940) 565-4523
Office hours TuTh 11:00-12:00, and by appointment

Teaching Assistants: Rachel Head (RachelHead@my.unt.edu)
Desirae Hamilton (DesireeHamilton@my.unt.edu)

Supplemental Instructors: Zachary Beldon (zacharybeldon@my.unt.edu) and
Kimberly Moody (kimberlymoody@my.unt.edu)

This is an introductory survey covering the history of the United States of America from the end of the Civil War to the modern era. We will study social, political, and cultural interactions among different groups of Americans during this period, and we will examine the ways that Americans have struggled to reconcile the ideals of the American republic with the realities of an expanding industrial capitalist economy and an expanding role on the global stage. Our emphasis will be on the major social and political trends that have characterized the development of the United States since the end of the Civil War, but together we will also explore the ways that struggles over race, gender, and culture have helped to shape the modern American republic of which we are citizens. I hope that by the end of the semester you will not only have a better grasp of the facts and chronology of U.S. History since 1865, but that you will have stretched and strengthened your critical thinking and persuasive writing muscles.

Communication: I want to be as accessible to you as I possibly can be. I will hold regular office hours every Tuesday and Thursday throughout the semester on a first come-first served basis, and I will also be happy to schedule an appointment with you at any time on which we can both agree. If you have a question about your grades you should first speak with your teaching assistant, but I encourage you to visit with me to discuss any aspect of this course or about whatever else is on your mind.

I will make periodic announcements (including, if necessary, changes to the course schedule) through the course's Blackboard site, which you can access at learn.unt.edu. If I ever need to contact you directly, I will send an email to your @my.unt.edu account. It is your responsibility to check that account regularly (or set it to forward to an account that you do check regularly) and to monitor the Blackboard site. If you need to contact me, call the number above or email the address above. Don't email me through Blackboard, because it might not reach me.

Required Texts/Readings: The following books are required. They are available from the UNT Bookstore and other outlets. Some of these books are available in multiple editions, so please pay close attention to the edition I am assigning:

Eric Foner, Give Me Liberty!: An American History, Volume Two, 4th Seagull Edition.

Eric Foner, Voices of Freedom: A Documentary Reader, Volume Two, Fourth Edition.

Richard Lowe, HIST 2620 Reader in American History, First Edition.

In addition, I will periodically display primary source documents in class and post them to the course's Blackboard page. You should consider them required readings.

Grading: You will have two midterms, worth 25% and 35% of your total grade, respectively, and a final exam worth 40% of your total grade. (See the following course schedule for exam dates.) The exams will test your comprehension of the assigned readings and what I go over in class, and they will require you to write persuasive essays. Each midterm exam will include 20 multiple choice questions that cover the readings, one short identification essay, and one longer essay. The essays will measure your ability to think critically and to form arguments and support them with relevant factual evidence from the lectures and readings. The final exam will include 20 multiple choice questions, two short identification essays, and a longer, cumulative essay question. I will explain my expectations for the essays in great detail before the first examination, and I will provide you with the possible "long essay" questions at least a week prior to the exams.

You will be allowed to take a make-up examination only if you cannot take an examination at its scheduled time because of a university-related function, or if you can offer proof of an emergency after the fact. No exceptions.

Please understand that your grade in this course will depend in large part on the choices you make throughout the semester. If you plan ahead, come to class, keep up with the assigned readings, ask questions to clarify any misunderstandings you may have along the way, and devote sufficient time to study for the exams, you are likely to do very well and make high grades on them. If you choose not to do any or all of these things, you won't perform as well on the exams. It's pretty simple, really, but you do need to understand that this is your choice to make, and you bear the responsibility for it. We will do everything in our power to help you improve on your exam grades, but if you choose not to put the work in, the TAs and I won't be able to do very much to assist you.

Supplemental Instruction: This section includes a Supplemental Instruction (SI) component, which is available for all students who want to improve their understanding of the material taught in this course. SI sessions are led by students who have been successful with the course material in the past and have been trained to facilitate group sessions where students can meet to compare class notes, review and discuss important concepts, develop strategies for studying, and prepare for exams. Attendance at SI sessions is free and voluntary. According to UNT's research, on average, students who attend supplemental instruction once a week earn a significantly higher course grade than those who do not attend. SI sessions begin the second week of class and continue throughout the semester. A session schedule will be announced in class. For information about the program, and session schedule/updates, visit:

<http://learningcenter.unt.edu/si>

My Expectations: The attached course schedule lists weekly reading assignments, which you should ideally complete before the first lecture of that week. Whether or not you can complete reading assignments before I deliver the corresponding lectures, I do expect you to keep up with the readings. You won't do well on the exams if you wait until the last minute to complete the readings.

I do not have an official attendance policy, but I will take attendance from time to time. You absolutely cannot expect to do well in this course if you miss class often. If you do miss a class meeting it is your responsibility to get notes from a classmate; the teaching assistants and I will share lecture outlines with you, but we will not share lecture notes. You will find that we work hard to prepare for class, make a point of arriving to the classroom on time, do our best to return graded assignments promptly, treat students with respect, and maintain a sense of humor. We ask no more—or less—than the same from you. Please turn your cell phone off before you enter the classroom, and only use laptops, tablets, etc., for their intended purposes in the classroom—or prepare to be embarrassed. If cell phones and laptop usage proves a problem in the class, I will ban all devices.

Statement Regarding Academic Dishonesty: I encourage you to become familiar with the University's policies on academic integrity and academic dishonesty found in the Student Code of Conduct (http://policy.unt.edu/sites/default/files/untpolicy/pdf/7-Student\_Affairs-Code\_of\_Student\_Conduct.pdf). The content of the Student Code applies to this course, and I refer all cases of cheating and plagiarism to the Provost's office. If you do choose to cheat or plagiarize on an exam you will earn a 0 for it, which means you will almost surely fail the course. I strongly encourage you not to test me on this.

Disability Statement: The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information see the Office of Disability Accommodation website at <http://www.unt.edu/oda>. You may also contact them by phone at 940.565.4323.

History 2620.007
Spring 2015 Course Schedule
(Subject to change on short notice)

January 20	Class introduction
January 22	Meanings of the Civil War
January 27	From “Restoration” to Radical Reconstruction
January 29	The “New South” and the “New North”: America at the end of Reconstruction
Reading:	Give Me Liberty! ch. 15 Voices of Freedom ch. 15 Reader in American History ch. 1
February 3	Western Expansion, 1870-1900
February 5	Urbanization, Industrialization, and Immigration, 1870-1900
Reading:	Give Me Liberty! ch.16 Voices of Freedom ch. 16 Reader in American History ch. 2-3
February 10	Review
February 12	First Midterm
Reading:	Give Me Liberty! ch. 17 Voices of Freedom ch. 17 Reader in American History ch. 4, 6
February 17	The Labor Movement and the Populist Challenge
February 19	The Road to American Imperialism
Reading:	Reader in American History ch. 4, 6
February 24	Progressivism and Social Reform
February 26	World War I and American Society
Reading:	Give Me Liberty! ch. 18-19 Voices of Freedom ch. 18-19 Reader in American History ch. 7-8
March 3	The “Roaring Twenties”: creating the modern economy
March 5	Cultural clashes in the 1920s
Reading:	Give Me Liberty! ch. 20 Voices of Freedom ch. 20 Reader in American History chs. 9, 11
March 10	The Boom/The Crash
March 12	The New Deal
Reading:	Give Me Liberty! chs. 21

Voices of Freedom ch. 21
Reader in American History ch. 12-14

March 17-19    Spring Break

March 24            The "Second" New Deal: creating welfare-state capitalism
March 26            Origins of the Second World War
Reading:            Give Me Liberty! ch. 22
                              Voices of Freedom ch. 22
                              Reader in American History ch. 16

March 31            The Home Front
April 2                Review
Reading:            Reader in American History ch. 17

April 7                Second Midterm Exam
April 9                The Cold War: International Implications and a War at Home
Reading:            Give Me Liberty! ch. 23-24
                              Voices of Freedom ch. 23-24
                              Reader in American History ch. 19

April 14             Origins of the Civil Rights Movement
April 16             The Civil Rights Movement, cont.
Reading:            Give Me Liberty! ch. 25
                              Voices of Freedom ch. 25
                              Reader in American History ch. 20

April 21             The Great Society and the Limits of American Liberalism
April 23             Vietnam and the Failure of Containment
Reading:            Give Me Liberty! ch. 26
                              Voices of Freedom ch. 26

April 28             The Modern Women's Movement
April 30             From the Watergate Affair to the Reagan Revolution
Reading:            Give Me Liberty! ch. 27
                              Voices of Freedom ch. 27

May 5                The U.S in the New Century
May 7                Review
Reading:            Give Me Liberty! ch. 28
                              Voices of Freedom ch. 28

Final Exam: May 14, 8:00-10:00 a.m., Wooten 222